Matchmaking with Brella, the SuperNova Networking App

As one of the VCs attending SuperNova, you will be able to create a networking profile with Brella – our matchmaking tool – enabling you to target scale-ups and preschedule meetings from September the 21st.

In total, we offer 13 Brella slots (20 minutes per time slot) and we provide opportunities to mingle informally. In addition, we provide all intel and company/contact details in a premium investor booklet.

How does Brella work?

- A week before SuperNova, you will be able to register a profile and will be able to start reviewing scale-ups and schedule meetings at SuperNova.
- Once a founder/C-level has accepted your Brella meeting invite, Brella will send you a confirmation of the meeting time and rendezvous point. Brella will keep track of all meetings planned on both investor days and provides you with a clear overview of your meetings at SuperNova on your phone.
- SuperNova has 12 numbered/visually easily recognizable rendezvous tables in the investor zone's central meeting area. These 12 tables are merely the rendezvous points. Once you're in the meeting point, you can use one out of the 10 MeetBoxes powered by MeetDistrict to get acquainted and talk business.

In order to focus on impactful matchmaking, Brella is exclusively open for attending VCs and pitching scale-ups.

Please note that BRELLA IS THE ONLY WAY TO PRE-BOOK ONE-ON-ONE MEETINGS. Each meeting slot takes a maximum of 20 minutes. Please respect the timing.
